Ups for the Month: New Greenway Wayfinding Signs Installed

The City of Sevierville Department of Parks and Recreation completed installation of new wayfinding signs on the City's extensive greenway system in September. The new wayfinding signs have been placed throughout the twelve miles of greenway and are designed to match other signs in the new City-wide wayfinding program. The City now has new wayfinding signs for welcoming at the City limits, the municipal campus, historic landmarks, and the greenway system, providing citizens and visitors consistent signage whether they are driving, walking, running, or riding a bicycle in Sevierville. There are two types of greenway wayfinding signs; signs are located along major roadways designating greenway locations, and numerous signs on greenway trails provide greenway names and distances to various points throughout the system.

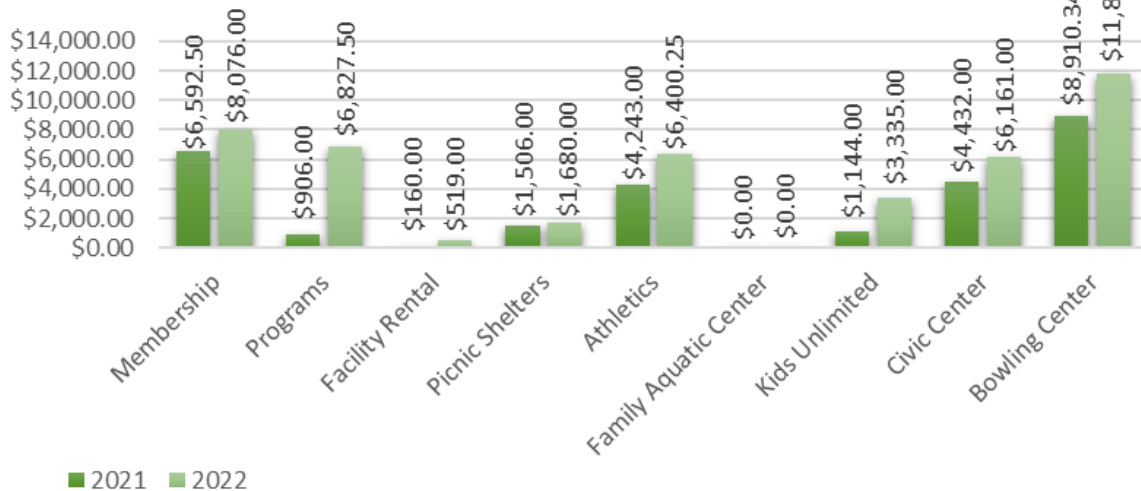

Not So Much an Up for the Month:

Long time part time employee Steve Allen retired and moved back to Florida. Steve was one of those rare people that could fix anything. He will be missed! I was out two weeks with pneumonia but did travel to Phoenix for the NRPA Annual Conference.
